“Happy to be Back!”

I received a warm welcome back to McClure this week and am looking forward to the upcoming months of working and worshipping with all of you. Summer was filled with family visits and many, many days at the lake and I now look forward to the rhythm of life within the church. As I am returning at a “half-time” rate I thought it would be helpful to share my expected schedule and office time. Normally I expect to be in the office on Wednesdays and Thursdays as well as being present for worship on Sunday mornings and an evening (or two) of commitment each week. There is some flexibility in this schedule to adapt to unique circumstances. At this point the M & P committee has concluded that my primary task will be that of worship leadership with pastoral care, study groups and/or committee meetings as time allows. Please never hesitate to drop by the office or to request an appointment or home visit. I will be working in concert with the M & P committee to monitor this change to a “half-time” appointment and feedback from the congregation is always appreciated.
